

Where to Eat, Drink, and Stay for New York Fashion Week

New York Fashion Week is back in full force, with a packed schedule of shows, events, and parties ranging all the way from Hudson Yards to Brooklyn. We're expecting lots of fun things to come down the runway, with major brands like Fendi and Marni making their New York debuts, and others like Tom Ford returning and showing alongside our regular downtown favorites Eckhaus Latta and Maryam Nassir Zadeh. In between all that, hotly anticipated newcomers like Puppets and Puppets and Luar are sure to be ones to watch. So, what to do between all the shows and outfit photos? Here's our guide on where to eat, drink, and stay.

Where to Stay

Depending on what you're looking for, you can experience a New York classic with iconic views, or you can try something new and fresh. There's never a shortage of interesting places to stay in New York City.

THE RIZ CARLTON NEW YORK, NOMAD

THE RITZ-CARLTON NEW YORK, NOMAD

The newly opened Ritz-Carlton, New York, NoMad is also conveniently located where famed New York views are to be had. Some of the highlights of this sparkling new hotel include dining by Michelin-starred chef José Andrés and a spa with unique treatments, ranging from a rose quartz exfoliation to Augustinus Bader facials.